

Soundtrack to my Life Brainstorming

Have you ever wondered about a movie made about your life? What would the soundtrack to the movie be? In this project, you will get to create your own biographical movie soundtrack!

Below, you will have space to brainstorm 10 big events in your life. Think of events that are important to you personally. Examples include the first day of school, a favorite birthday, moving, having a younger sibling, a personal achievement, a personal loss, etc. Next to each event, write a short description about the event and how it made you feel. Once we have brainstormed these 10 events, we will narrow it down to your 5 favorites and use these events to find a song for each one.

Now, what are some songs you can think of that might fit the themes of each event? Remember, this is brainstorming- what you come up with here does not have to be all the songs you will use.

Soundtrack to my Life Project

You will use your brainstorming sheet to select 5 events from your life that you would like to put in a movie about your life. For each event, you will select a song as a soundtrack to that event. You will explain the significance of each event, then provide some basic information about the song (provided on this sheet). When you have selected all your songs, create a visual to present to the class. You can make a poster, a PowerPoint, a Canva presentation, or any other visual aide. The presentation should be about 3 minutes, and can include a short snippet of your favorite song!
